Rapid Antigen Testing for HCV – ‘Now’ is the Time

- HCV infection causes both acute and chronic hepatitis, with symptoms ranging from mild to life-threatening, including liver cirrhosis and cancer.¹
- Patients can start treatment sooner and take preventative measures if they are immediately informed that they have the HCV virus.

When time is of the essence, selecting a highly sensitive rapid HCV test can be crucial. Rapid HCV testing can be performed at a point of care and provides results within 15 minutes.
